UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER OR OPEN WAR!

British Ultimatum To Indonesian People

FAILURE TO COMPLY WILL MEAN OPEN WARFARE

Allied C.-in-C.'s Proclamation: Strong Forces Ready For Action

BATAVIA, Nov. 9, (Reuter): Gloves are off in Java. By early morning tomorrow (Indian Time) Britain may be in a state of open war with the Indonesian extremists.

The steadily deteriorating situation in the island came to a head today with the issue of the unconditional surrender ultimatum to Indonesian leaders by Major-General Eric Mansergh, Commander of the Fifth Indian Division and successor in Sourabaya to the murdered Brigadier Mallaby.

The Indonesian failure to comply with the drastic terms of the ultimatum by 06-00 hours tomorrow (Local Time), will mean that they will be enforced with "all land, sea and air forces" at British disposal.

TEXT OF ULTIMATUM

General Mansergh's ultimatum was showered in thousands of pamphlets by R.A.F. fighter aircraft roaring low over Sourabaya this morning.

After recalling the events of October 28 culminating in the murder of Brigadier Mallaby, the preamble to the ultimatum stated: "The above crimes against civilisation cannot go unpunished.

"Therefore, unless, the following orders are obeyed by 06-00 hours on November 10 at the latest, I shall enforce them with all sea, land and air force at my disposal.

"Those Indonesians who have failed to obey the orders will be solely responsible for bloodshed which must inevitably ensue."

SURRENDER METHODS

The ultimatum gave these details of conditions under which surrender of arms was to be made.

All Indonesians not authorised to carry arms and who are in possession of arms will report at a given place at 18.00 hours to-day carrying a white flag and proceeding in single file.

They will lay down their arms at a point 100 yards from the 'rendezvous', after which they will approach with their hands above their heads and must be prepared to sign a document of unconditional surrender.

After laying down their arms, they will be allowed to return to their homes.

The ultimatum warned that only uniformed police and the regular TKR (Peace Preservation Corps) are authorised to carry arms. On the expiry of the ultimatum the city would be searched by Allied forces. Anyone found possessing firearms or concealing them will be liable to a death sentence.

Any attempt to attack or molest Allied internees will be punishable by death.

Nationalists Call For Reinforcements

BATAVIA, Nov. 9, (A.P.A.): Indonesian Nationalists called for reinforcements today to repel an expected landing of Dutch troops at Sourabaya.

This development, coupled with a British army plan to distribute leaflets today announcing its intention of disarming the Indonesians, added to the tense situation in the naval base.

Annamites Use Jap Gun

Bitter Fighting Breaks Out South Of Saigon

SAIGON, Nov. 9 (APA): Bitter fighting broke out yesterday in the south of Saigon between French river-borne and overland columns and strongly resisting Annamites. The battle continued into the night in the vicinity of Tanan, presumably with collaboration of Japanese deserters.

On an unidentified sector, the Annamites were reported to be using a Japanese-manned 75 millimeter piece against the French and in another area the French garrison has asked for British and Indian relief.

The Annamites, until yesterday, has engaged in "shadow" resistance against French expansion to the south, mainly felling trees across roads and setting up blocks impassable for mobile forces.

On page 2 of today's issue is a list of names of Officers of the Indian Army who were Prisoners of War in the hands of the Japanese and are now known to be safe in Allied hands. Further lists will be published from time to time.

Labour Toes Tory Line On India

LACK OF UNITY BLOCKS ROAD TO FREEDOM

Britain Has No Desire To Dominate, Says Attlee

"Ever since the Cripps offer in 1942 India's complete freedom has been there for the taking. The only obstacle so far,—a very grave obstacle,—has been the failure of Indian communities to agree among themselves," declared Mr. Clement Attlee, Prime Minister of Great Britain, in the course of a speech in London on Friday.

Mr. Attlee said "The pace of advance . . . . is decided not so much by the degree of culture that has been achieved, but by the extent to which people is either homogeneous when it comprises more than one community or has realised that tolerance is the essence of democracy . . . . constitutional advance is restricted not by the desire of Great Britain to dominate, but by the failure of communities to trust each other.

Toleration is of slow growth, but until it exists freedom and democracy cannot flourish."

LONDON, Nov. 9 (Reuter): Mr. Clement Attlee, the British Prime Minister, speaking at the Lord Mayor's luncheon at Mansion House to-day only a few hours before he is due to leave for Washington for talks with the United States President declared: "My principal purpose in visiting President Truman is to discuss with him and Mr. Mackenzie King world affairs in the light—the terrible light—of the discovery of atomic energy. I go to consideration of these high matters not downcast or depressed, but in a spirit of high endeavour to live to serve my fellow men."

BRITISH METHODS

Mr. Attlee opened his speech with a tribute to the leader of the Conservative Party Mr. Winston Churchill and to the fact that "scarred and battered" London had set an example of fortitude, courage and cheerfulness which resounded throughout the world.

Speaking of the Coalition Government and the return of the Labour Government, Mr. Attlee said: "In the ending of that coalition we demonstrated to the world that it was possible to make a great change in political representation by free vote even while the war in the Far East was still continuing and a changed Government can be effected without violence. I think that there are many countries that could with advantage imitate our methods.

PRIME OBJECTIVE

"We in this country believe in liberty, in freedom of speech and freedom of conscience and in a free Parliament in which is expressed that healthy clash of rival opinions. But we do not allow our differences to prevent us from co-operating for common good. We have now returned to our normal political life a Government and an Opposition, but I am certain that valuable lessons learnt in the war will not be forgotten."

Mr. Attlee said that Government regarded a large and rapid increase in export trade as an objective of prime importance, adding: "It is our firm intention that this country

Sarat Bose Launches Election Campaign

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9. (A.P.I.): Mr Sarat Chandra Bose, who returned to Calcutta to-day, inaugurated the Congress election lampaign in Bengal this evening at a mammoth public meeting held at Deshabandhu Park.

The gathering was one of the largest in Calcutta in recent years and elaborate arrangements had been made by the Congress for holding it. Congress volunteers and their troops commanders were present in force to maintain order. A number of processions bearing Congress and other flags converged on the Park from different areas of the city, entering it by a special gate allotted to them. Workers and Kisans also gathered in large numbers.

"To vote for the Congress is to vote for the freedom of India", declared Mr. Bose, addressing the meeting which was attended by over a lakh of people. Several I. N. A. men were among the huge gathering which gave a tremendous welcome to Mr. Bose on his arrival. Before the proceedings started a Congress flag was hoisted and "Bande Mataram" and the Indian National Army's marching song "Kadam Kadam Baraye Chal" were sung.

Mr. Bose disclosed in the course of his ninety-minute speech that long before the Congress came to any decision with regard to the coming election, he had, on behalf of the Congress, made a very fair offer to Dr. Shyama Prasad Mookerjee, President of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha and had agreed to give the Sabha two out of eight non-Muhammedan seats in the Central Assembly from Bengal. But that offer was rejected by Dr. Mookerjee. The Congress then decided to contest all the seats.

The Congress, he pointed out, opposed Pakistan.

IN HOWRAH

Simultaneously, the President of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, Mr. Surendra Mohan Ghosh, commenced the election campaign in Howrah at a public meeting.

China In Grip Of Civil War

"REDS" REJECT PEACE PROPOSALS

CHUNGKING, Nov. 9 (Reuter): Mounting tension in China is indicated by simultaneous reports that the Communists have rejected the Chinese Central Government's peace proposals and that Central Government troops have taken up positions facing Communists' forces along the Great Wall of China which ends near the coast north-east of the port of Chinwangtao. Government troops had landed at the port which is 140 miles north-east of Tientsin from American transports.

General Chou En-Lai, representative of the Communist Party in Chungking, will ask the Central Government if they will allow foreign correspondents to visit liberated areas of China to see for themselves what is going on, it is reported to-day.

This request follows a letter printed recently in the North China "Daily News" from the Communist General, Chu Teh, detailing alleged United States military activities in North China including machine-gunning from air of civilians and troops in the city of Yangt-sun in Hopei.

WARNING TO U. S.

In a second letter to the Commander of the United States forces in China, Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, General Chu Teh, who is in command of the Communist Army, says that the Communists reserve the right to claim compensation, should investigations prove that damage to life and property had been caused in Yangtsun, reports Doon Campbell, Reuter's special correspondent in Chungking.

BOMBAY GOES ALL OUT FOR I. N. A. RELIEF

Mayor To Ask School And College Heads To Relieve Students For Fund Collection

BOMBAY, Friday.

The Bombay City Indian National Army Relief Committee of which Dr. Alban D'Souza, Mayor of Bombay, is the President, proposes to issue an appeal to the headmasters and Principals of the local schools and colleges to relieve students, so that they may act as volunteers for street collections at Bombay South, on November 20.

As the National Army Week is drawing near, relief offers are pouring in. But the Relief Committee has decided to make collections even after the week is over. The biggest day of the collections will be November 20, when a contingent of 2,000 volunteers is expected to be on the streets at Bombay South.

It is expected that the Mayor of Bombay and Mr. J. Leon, D'Souza, Joint Honorary Secretary of the Committee, will see Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru during his stay in Bombay, in connection with the Relief Committee's work.

WORKERS' CONTRIBUTION

Collections in mill areas started from to-day. The work will continue for two more days. Certain industrial and commercial institutions have also asked for volunteers to be posted in their respective premises, as the pay-day of the workers has begun. Already about 500 volunteers have been posted near the mill areas and the total collection so far made is estimated at about Rs. 35,000.

Offers from various dramatic societies and theatrical associations to give performances in aid of the I.N.A. are being made. Certain Army officials and units are keen on co-operating in such efforts.

The star show is, however, expected to be from the Indian Dance Guild which is expected to stage a silhouette dance drama at Gowalia Tank to supplement the collections of the Committee. The drama is expected to be staged on November 30, on December 1 and 2.

For street and house-to-house collections in the North of Bombay, November 18 has been set apart. But the collection in the south is expected to be bigger. Hence the appeal for more volunteers, both ladies and men.

Those who propose to work as volunteers are requested to contact Mr. Leon D'Souza in his office at second floor, Nagin Mahal, Churchgate Street, Bombay.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9. (A.P.I.): Further contributions to the I.N.A. relief fund have been received from members of the Indian Army and the R.I.A.F., says the Secretary of the Relief Committee in a statement.

Employees of various Government of India offices in Calcutta are also making contributions to the fund.

A contribution of Rs. 62 has been received from a number of Muslim shoe-makers while many other Muslim shopkeepers have sent a sum of Rs. 82.

HUBLI, Nov. 8. (A.P.I.): Resolutions congratulating the Soviet Union on the occasion of the 26th anniversary of the Russian Revolution, and demanding the release of I.N.A. men now detained in different centres were passed at a public meeting held last night under the auspices of the local Communist Party.

DHARWAR, Nov. 7. (A.P.I.): Resolutions applauding the men of the I.N.A. and warning Government against victimising or punishing them were passed at a meeting of the Karnatak Provincial Congress Committee which met here on Wednesday for the first time after 1942.

RATNAGIRI, (A.P.I.): The I.N.A Day was observed here under the auspices of the District Congress Committee. Speeches eulogising the services of the men and leaders of the I.N.A. were made and resolutions were passed demanding their release and respectful and courteous treatment to them while in detention. Similar resolutions were also passed at another meeting held under the auspices of the Hindu Mahasabha.

KARACHI, (O.P.I.): Post-card size photographs of Capt. Shah Nawaz, Capt. P. K. Sehgal and Lt. Gurbaxsh Singh Dhillon were marketed in Karachi to synchronise with the opening of I.N.A. trial by enterprising way-side photographers who reported to have reaped excellent business. The pictures are finding their way into several hundred homes. The idea is expected to be worked up by the Sind Congressmen in electioneering campaign.

CUTTACK, (A.P.I.): The Utkal Students Congress proposed to hold a charity football match here in aid of the I.N.A. Defence Fund, and has invited the Amritabazar football Club, Calcutta, to participate in the match.

Mr. Jagannath Das, M.L.A. (Central), accompanied by the Secretary of the Utkal Students Congress, saw the District Magistrate this morning, and sought his permission to use the 'Suilli Maidan' where such sports are usually held. But the District Magistrate expressed his inability to agree to their proposal.

Mr. Das referring to the District Magistrate's attitude says: 'It is regrettable that permission was refused although the Government of India have been granting all facilities for the defence of the I.N.A. men on trial. This is one of the instances which remind us that we are not masters of our land even for the purpose of helping the patriots in trouble.'

BOMBAY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Lester's Brilliant Cello Solo

Mr. George Lester's brilliant cello solo performance was outstanding at the concert of the Bombay Symphony Orchestra at the C.J. Hall on Thursday evening.

The programme showed a varied selection of items discriminately chosen, resulting in a well-balanced concert. Recently prejudiced and indiscriminate criticism of the orchestra has appeared in the local press; it should be remembered that though the orchestra is largely composed of local talent most of whom have had no foreign training or experience, still, in the opinion of competent foreign critics and celebrities, it is not only the best orchestra in Bombay, and one of the best in the East, but it can also compare favourably with orchestras of the same size and standard in the West, due in no small measure to the groundwork and direction of the conductor Mons. Jules Craen.

The programme of the evening started with Gluck's Iphigenie Overture; the orchestra did not hang together well and seemed uncertain and hesitant for want of a stronger lead. The ensemble was much better in Gluck's "Dance of the Spirits" from Orphee, the rendering showing feeling and expression. The flute obligato in this, as well as in Turina's "Procession del Rocio" later on was brilliant. Rameau's "Rigaudon" was executed in perfect tempo. Mozart's "Haffner Symphony" again suffered from a weak lead that marred the performance. Faure's "Elegie" proved the outstanding item due to George Lester's brilliant solo on the violoncello, in spite of the accompanying strings being too vocal at times. Rimsky Korsakov's "Introduction and Wedding March" gave a bright finish to the programme. In the abundance of music concerts scheduled for this month, the most promising is Raymond O'Counell's Pianoforte Recital next Tuesday the 13th.

At a Press Conference called by Principal G. R. Paranjpey of Royal Institute of Science on Thursday, in connection with the Silver Jubilee of the Institute, he laid emphasis on the fact that the Institute was not a college but an institute for post graduate studies. The occasion of the Silver Jubilee is proposed to utilise to stimulate public interest in scientific matters and scientific research which are so vital to the industrial development of the province. The exhibition will be declared open by H. E. the Governor of Bombay on the 15th instant and will remain open for four days. Among other things there will be a display of educational and scientific films for the visitors free of charge. The last day, the 19th instant, will be reserved for children to view the exhibition film when at least 3,000 children are expected to see the scientific and educational films.

Speaking on the activities of the institution, he said: "For the education of the public in scientific matters, science exhibitions have been held in the Institute on various occasions. Members of the staff of the Institute have delivered a number of Popular Lectures on scientific subjects which are given every Saturday afternoon. These lectures are open to the public and they are given in English and in Indian languages. The Institute has rendered good service for the development of Industries in this Province and has supplied them with trained personnel. Some of the investigations tackled in the Institute are the Manufacture of Potassium Chloride and Bromine from sea-bitterns, Magnessium Carbonate, Strontium Carbonate, Potassium Chlorate, etc. For these investigations, the Institute has received research studentships and other financial assistance from persons connected with Industry, University, the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, etc.

Gambling Racket In Suburbs

Mr. B. G. Kher and Mr. Shewak Bhojraj, Joint Secretaries, [illegible] Suburban Social Service League, write: Our attention has been drawn by a Suburban Citizen to a menace which has raised its head in the Suburbs of Bandra and Khar since last few months. A gang of four or five persons who seem to have no other ostensible means of livelihood gather together at important road junctions, or outside railway stations, where the traffic of people is at its peak, and try to attract attention of the passers-by in their nefarious game. One of the gang sits down with a pack of playing cards, while another suddenly make his appearance and puts down a rupee or two, and very soon wins Rs. 10 or 15. He is followed by another, who also invariably wins! Innocent passers-by are attracted by this sudden prospect of making easy money, and join the game. The result is that they are fully deceived and all their money disappears as in their case the winning card never turns up. These gangs are plying their trade both in Bandra and Khar possibly in other suburbs also. It is to be noted that whenever a public spirited person tries to interfere in their activities, they merely shift their scene of activities. It is mostly the illiterate people who are hit by these anti social activities, and the Deputy Commissioner of Police has been approached to keep a close watch on these gangs and to take prompt action against them whenever necessary.

Only Diehard Tory Press Welcomes Bevin's Speech

It Appears From Speeches That Britain Has Been At War With Russia For 5 Years, Says Gallacher

LONDON, Nov. 9, (U. P. I.): A strange paradox was enacted in the House of Commons last night during the Foreign Affairs Debate writes the "United Press of India" political correspondent. Mr. Bevin's speech on British policy towards Russia was received in dead silence by Labour benches but was vociferously applauded by Tory opposition. This reaction is shared by the general public. Tories are jubilant, but progressive and left-wing opinion is dismayed and despondent. A more sober view is that Mr. Bevin could not have made inepter or less statesmanlike speech.

Implications of Mr Bevin's pronouncement are regarded as serious and far-reaching by political observers. It is interpreted as a threat to Russia that if she does not fall in line with Anglo-American conceptions. Britain and America as hinted by Mr. Churchill are prepared to settle international affairs on a "Big Two Level" with the aid of the atom bomb. It was with some justification that Mr. William Gallacher, Communist M.P., commented in the House: "It might have been thought by some of the speeches that we had been at war with Russia for the last five years".

The Press this morning is divided regarding the last night's debate. The "News Chronicle" reflecting the Liberal outlook says: "Mr. Churchill's arguments will not carry conviction. The point is that one certain method of provoking suspicion among nations and of setting in motion a mad race for atomic supremacy is to show distrust at the outset by refusing to pool vital knowledge."

The "Times" is non-committal and merely gives an editorial resume of Mr. Bevin's arguments without comment, but says of Mr. Churchill's suggestion of Two Power Anglo-American partnership "It is as well to emphasise the patent truth that no partnership between Great Britain and the United States or between all the English speaking nations could by itself possibly form an exclusive bulwark or guarantee for world peace".

Only diehard Tory Press wholeheartedly approves of Mr. Bevin's speech. "Mr. Bevin spoke for Britain last night", acclaims the "Daily Mail" editorially. As one prominent Labour back-bencher remarked last night: "If Mr. Bevin goes on like this he will soon be made an honorary member of the Carlton Club".

Moscow Public Sees Nothing Surprising In Stalin's Absence

But Amazed At Wild Speculations In Foreign Press

MOSCOW Nov. 8. (Reuter): Generalissimo Stalin it is generally believed in Moscow, spent yesterday's anniversary of the Revolution at Sochi on the Black Sea coast where he is on a holiday.

The Russian man in the street though disappointed does not appear to be unduly surprised that Generalissimo Stalin did not return to Moscow for the anniversary. The Russians feel that he is the hardest working man in the country and that his holiday is long overdue.

They see nothing strange in the fact that his holiday may be extended to a month which is a normal annual holiday for Soviet officials. His departure for Sochi was publicly announced and his return to Moscow will probably be announced also.

A news agency in Paris quoting a report from its Moscow correspondent to-day stated that Generalissimo Stalin is in a nursing home at Gagri near Sochi owing to a sudden turn for the worse in his health.

The report, which is entirely without confirmation, said that seven doctors were ugently summoned to Sochi on October 28. Generalissimo Stalin had had a slight heart attack. During the night of November 4 the Soviet Foreign Commissar M. Molotov received a sudden urgent call by direct telephone informing him that Generalissimo Stalin's health had taken a turn for the worse and his doctors forbade him to travel to Moscow.

Generalissimo Stalin's daughter who is studying in Moscow, left at once to join her father and specialists have gone to Sochi to attend him, the agency added.

I. N. A. Fund In London

Indians Contribute Freely

(From Our Correspondent.)

LONDON, Nov. 6

Indians of all shades and opinions are deeply concerned with the trial of the officers of the Indian National Army, which opened at New Delhi, yesterday. For helping their defence they are contributing freely to the fund started by a special committee which has been set up in London under the chairmanship of Doctor D. N. Dutt. The Committee is convening special public meeting in London, Birmingham, Manchester and Coventry, where Indians and their friends will be familiarised with the grave charges with which the accused are confronted, and the Committee hopes that it will be in a position to remit the first instalment running into four figures, to Mr. Kirpalani for helping the defence.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru has written to Mr. Dutt, pointing out that though the senior defence lawyers will not accept payments, money is urgently required to meet other contingencies in connection with the trial.

Bombay East And West Fraternity Club

Mrs. B. C. Dutt, Hon. Secretary of the Club writes:

The possibility of forming in Bombay a branch of the "East and West Fraternity" has been under consideration for some time. One of the aims of such an organisation is to provide a meeting ground for Services and Civilians, and to promote friendship between peoples of different lands.

A small working Committee with the Hon. Mr. Justice Blagden as President and myself as Honorary Secretary has met several times during the year with the object of opening in Bombay such an organisation. In places like Delhi, Calcutta, Poona the Fraternity has achieved considerable success.

The trend of thought has changed to-day. One must think of one's country as a part of the World State. A common humanity is the heritage of to-day. There is a real desire to know other lands and other peoples. The Bombay East and West Fraternity Club hopes that this common meeting ground will lead to mutual understanding and good-will.

The inaugural meeting is fixed for Monday, November 12th at 6-30 p.m. at the Government Law College Building (Churchgate Station).

MARITIME UNION'S PROTEST

Exclusion From I. L. O. Conference On Racial Grounds

BOMBAY, Nov. 9 (API). The Maritime Union of India, a union of officers of the Indian Mercantile Marine has issued a protest against the exclusion of its representative by the Government of India from the Tripartite Technical Maritime Conference convened by the International Labour Organisation to be held at Copenhagen on November 15.

The Maritime Union of India is the Merchant Navy Officers' Union of the Indian coast and according to Mr. D. Mungat, Secretary of the Union, this is the only Union of officers on the Indian coast which represents 90 per cent. of the officers in the Indian Mercantile Marine.

The Joint Secretary of the Commerce Department, Mr. S. R. Zaman informed the Union that the Union could not be given representation to the I.L.O. as the Officers' Federation (Merchant Navy) of United Kingdom of which Mr William H. Coombs is the President had objected to the Maritime Union catering to European membership.

The statement continues: "The Maritime Union of India strongly objects to such racial questions being permitted to completely overshadow the representative character of a trade union.

In conclusion, Mr Mungat says that a great injustice has been done by the exclusion of the representatives of the Maritime Union of India on the ground of technical objections raised on racial grounds and hopes that "even at this late hour the Government of India will see its way to include our representatives in the list of delegates to the tripartite conference."

Air-Conditioning Units For Home And Office

Wider availability of air conditioning and refrigeration equipment for India's industrial and home use was predicted by John M. Rachal, Regional Manager for Carrier International who recently arrived in Bombay.

"Air conditioning and refrigeration will permit industrial activities formerly deemed impossible in India and other countries with tropical or semi-tropical climates." Mr. Rachal declared. "In addition, they will increase the output of existing industries and encourage the advent of new industrial enterprises."

The Carrier Corporation, pioneer in the air conditioning and refrigeration field, is already producing many new units, Mr. Rachal said. The first available equipment will be factory-assembled self-contained air conditioning units for home or office, and small refrigerating systems.

"Other products will follow early in 1946", Mr. Rachal announced. "However, world demand exceeds supply, and facilities may be limited for some time."

Mr. Rachal will confer, while in Bombay, with Volkart Brothers, local Carrier distributors. Mr. Rachal will also be available for consultation with industrial and commercial organizations regarding their air conditioning and refrigeration plans and requirements during his limited stay in India.

This is a model of the United Nations Centre which Vincent G. Ramey, U. S. architect, has proposed for San Francisco, the U. S. west coast metropolis which was the site of the United Nations Conference on International Organization. The United Nations Executive Committee voted on Oct. 3, 1945, to recommend that the permanent headquarters should be situated in the United States. The final decision on a permanent site will be taken at the first meeting of the General Assembly in December. The centre proposed by Mr. Ramey would provide space for the Economic and social Council. Behind the plaza would be a 10,000-seat General Assembly hall and in the centre a museum capped by a 150-foot translucent globe. Below the globe, there would be a waterfall, and mansions for the delegates. At the right there would be an archives building.

Aga Khan Pleads For Unity

KARACHI, Nov. 9 (U.P.I.): "Time has come when Hindus and Muslims realised their responsibility to their country. By their differences, they are in fact holding back the progress of the entire continent of Asia", said H. H. the Aga Khan, who arrived here along with his beautiful French wife and a staff of two lady secretaries and two male secretaries in an interview to the "United Press of India." H. H. the Aga Khan who wore horn rimmed spectacles and heavy sunhat looked vivacious though ageing.

Replying to a question if he would act as an ambassador of peace and attempt at establishing Hindu Muslim unity, he said that it was a difficult task and he had not come to India for the purpose. He might, however, meet Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah if he came across them, adding that he would rather be busy with his Jubilee celebrations, when he would be weighed against diamonds at Bombay on March 20 and for which 100 lbs. of diamonds had already been procured by his followers, that being his approximate weight.

H. H. the Aga Khan declined to comment on the Muslim League demand for partition of India.

Later H. H. the Aga Khan, seated in a silver chair, performed mass marriages of 50 couples.

SARAT BOSE MEETS KHARE

NAGPUR, Nov. 8 (A.P.I.): Dr. N. B. Khare, Member, Commonwealth Relations, Government of India, met Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose this morning at the Railway Station when Mr. Bose passed through Nagpur to Calcutta by the Calcutta Mail.

It is understood that Mr. Bose had expressed his desire to meet Dr. Khare in a telegram he had sent to Dr. Khare, and the meeting today was purely a formal affair without any political significance.

Mukherjee Did Not Intend To Fight Bose

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9. (U.P.I.): "It never had been my intention to force a contest between Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and myself in the election to the Central Assembly", observed Dr Shyamaprasad Mukherji, President All-India Hindu Mahasabha, in the course of a statement.

Explaining the position, Dr. Mukherji states that he decided to stand for the Burdwan Constituency, but when the Congress nominated Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose for the seat, Dr. Mukherji decided not to seek suffrage of the Burdwan electorate, but filed nomination paper for Calcutta and another Constituency. Nomination paper, was however, filed by Mr. Sarat Bose for Calcutta also, but Dr. Mukherji points out that the Congress had not nominated any candidate for Calcutta nor the Hindu Mahasabha for the Burdwan.

Dr. Mukerji appreciated the keen desire on the part of any mutual friends that "both should have an opportunity of serving the cause of Bengal in the Central Legislature in this national crisis".

"SPIRIT OF REVOLT IN INDIANS STILL ALIVE"

PANVEL, Nov. 5: Congressmen and Hindu Mahasabhaites went on a common platform at Shirdhon in the Colaba district to celebrate the birth centenary of Vasudev Balwant Phadke, the first Indian revolutionary patriot, who revolted against the foreign rule in India. At Shirdhon, the birth-place of Phadke, people from all over Maharashtra and Bombay, joined the celebration which was held in a specially decorated pandal near the house in which Phadke was born. Mr. L. B Bhopatkar, the Mahasabha leader from Poona, Presided. In the beginning wreaths were placed at the memorial pillar of this great revolutionist. Speaking on the occasion, Mr. Vedak, stressed the fact that all political parties were jointly paying their homage to the memory of Phadke. He said that the spirit of resistance to foreign domination which animated Vasudev Balwant in 1879 was still alive amongst the Indian people, of which the countrywide unrest of 1942 was a noteworthy example.

RAJEN BABU APPEALS FOR CLEMENCY TO BIHAR POLITICAL

PATNA, Nov. 9 (U.P.I.): Dr. Rajendra Prasad has sent the following telegram to the Viceroy and the Governor of Bihar: "In view of the political motive of the offence and for restoring goodwill allround, may I make this last minute appeal invoking your Excellency's prerogative of mercy in favour of Mahendra Gope whose execution in the Bhagalpur Central Jail has been fixed on November 10.

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage;
Minds innocent and quiet take
That for a hermitage;

If I have freedom in my love
And in my soul am free,
Angels alone, that soar above,
Enjoy such liberty.

The Bombay Chronicle

INDIANS IN CEYLON

It is curious that the Ceylon Board of Ministers has welcomed the White Paper of the British Government, which is substantially based on the recommendations of the Soulbury Report, though those recommendations concede neither independence nor full Dominion Status. Under the proposed scheme the Governor-General is to retain reserve powers in regard to defence, external affairs and commercial matters. Mr. D. S. Senanayake, Leader of the Council of State, thinks that on certain points the scheme is even better than the Sri Lanka Bill adopted by the State Council, and his only regret is that Ceylon is not to be immediately transferred to the Dominion Office. It seems, however, that the Ministers accept the new constitution only in the sense that it is not to be boycotted but is to be used to strengthen the country's demand for independence so as to make it irresistible. It will not be long before the people begin to chafe under the powers of an alien Governor-General in no way responsible to the legislature.

The position of Indian settlers in the island is naturally a question of special interest to us. They have always supported the demand for complete independence or full Dominion Status and they oppose the new constitution as it grants neither. They also oppose it on the ground that under it their position as a minority is unsatisfactory, if not worse than it is now. But it would, be best for them not to stand in the way of the progress desired by the indigenous people, merely because the progress is not wholly satisfactory. They should, of course, demand their own legitimate rights but it will not be wise to make their failure to get them a reason to obstruct general constitutional progress. They should rely, for the winning of their rights, more on the people of the island than on the Governor-General, who is likely to exploit their discontent to divide the people and to put off indefinitely the attainment of full self-Government.

The constitutional position of the Indian settlers is that, while they justly demand adult franchise on a par with the rest of the population, their present franchise is much restricted and the new constitution not only continues the restictions but also provides no guarantee that the restrictions will not be multiplied. Messrs. A. Aziz and S. Vythilingam, members of the Delegation of the Ceylon Indian Congress to represent matters to the Government of India on the Soulbury recommendation, remark in the statement recently issued by them: "One is shocked to see that even the future alteration of the Franchise Law is left in hhe hands of the proposed Ceylon Parliament in which the Sinhalese community which, as the Commissioners themselves admit, are bent upon liquidating Indian voting strength, will always be in a majority." The constitutional rights of a large majority of a national Parliament to change its constitution cannot be questioned. But on grounds of justice and fairness it should be possible to provide constitutional safeguards for the franchise rights of naturalised Indians in Ceylon. The Ceylon Indian Congress demands specifically that the right to acquire the full status of a national of Ceylon shoud be provided for any Indian "who elects to become a national on a simple test of five years' residence and a declaration of intention to make Ceylon his home". At present one of the alternative qualifications for franchise for Indians is five years' residence and a certificate of permanent settlement. In a recent press interview, Mr. Senanayake said that even now so far as he could see, any Indian who decided to make the Island his permanent home could do so by a legal declaration and the procedure for such a domicile certificate had been made as simple as possible, consistent with the requirements of the law. In these circumstances we think it should not be difficult for the resident Indians to secure, through friendly negotiations, a constitutional provision for franchise on the basis of five years' residence and a declaration of intention to make Ceylon their home. We wholeheartedly agree with Mr. Senanayake that, "with a really representative Government in power in India, a solution of this Indo-Ceylon problem would not be difficult".

Frankly Speaking

Anglo-Russian Relations

M.P.'s in the subsequent debate on British foreign policy were prompt in challenging Messrs. Bevin and Churchill on the question of the atomic bomb. They rightly exposed the absurdity—one called it the worst hypocrisy—of asking for international collaboration when two of the Big Powers insisted on sitting on the atom bomb secret. Mr. Bevin dealing with the question appealed to Big Powers to put all their cards on the table face upwards. This sounds as if Mr. Bevin conceded the principle of sharing the secrets provided others conceded it. This would be welcome because it would inevitably lead to international control over the manufacture of such fell weapons of destruction as the atom bomb. The main part of the speech was, however, devoted to a purposely frank review of relations between the Anglo-Saxon Powers and the Soviet Union. Mr. Bevin was forthright and outspoken. Relations have deteriorated so much that drastic treatment has become necessary. Frankness and open diplomacy are always desirable. Today they are urgent because both sides, feeling themselves before the bar of world opinion, would be inclined to be more reasonable than cantankerous.

Pot And Kettle

As to Mr. Bevin's grievances, he raised an interesting argument when he insinuated that the Soviet Union demanded domination over Eastern Europe but objected to Britain and Western European countries coming closer together. Actually both are undesirable because the problem is not rendered easier but dangerously more difficult by the division of Europe into zones and spheres of influence. As to the other grievances, many will agree that territorial concessions to the Soviet Union have gone far enough and must now stop—we are thinking particularly of the anxieties of Iran and Turkey. Similarly many will agree that M. Molotov's sudden demand for some of the Italian colonies was—though not for Britain's imperial reasons—entirely unfortunate and must be resisted on the grounds of justice and democracy. But many will also agree that if Russia's expansionist ambitions are bad they are, realistically speaking, no worse than Britain's firm determination "to hold what is ours." Nor do Mr. Bevin's defence of, and democratic professions about, the British Empire constitute an answer to the simple truth that "the Empire" has as much right to freedom from Britain as an Italian colony or East European territory or Manchurian ports have to freedom from Russia. Incidentally, the 12 points of President Truman to which Mr. Bevin subscribed with gusto contradict the British imperial thesis of Messrs. Churchill, Attlee and Bevin.

Jinnah's Plain Speaking

On Thursday evening there was held in Bombay a public meeting under the auspices of the Muslim League in which Mr. M. A. Jinnah made a comprehensive and outspoken speech on the question of Palestine. We must, we fear, record our regret in respect of two things. He should not have introduced unnecessarily and irrelevantly an issue of partisan politics —we mean the claim about the representative character of the Muslim League in Indian national affairs—especially when Consuls of Middle East countries, who have nothing to do with our domestic problems had been invited and were to speak as, in fact, they did. They could well have been spared an obvious embarrassment on that occasion. Another matter for regret is that Mr. Jinnah should have held back Lord Linlithgow's letter of June 27, 1940 relating to the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem. In the interests of the Grand Mufti and the Arabs Mr. Jinnah should have demanded the right to publish the letter and to challenge the British Government in public as to their view of and plans about the Mufti. He owed it to the Arabs and to Indian Muslims, too. As to the rest we are very glad that Mr. Jinnah spoke quite plainly and lent his support to what many in India, including this paper, have been saying for long. Mere plain speaking as to the iniquity of Zionists and their supporters will of course, not be quite enough at this critical stage. We, therefore, heartily welcome Mr. Chundrigar's hint that of late signs were looming large on the horizon which meant that something more than mere sympathy was needed now.

Scandalous

The 'Associated Press' states that, according to figures available in Delhi 6 127 persons were under-going imprisonment on September 1 in connection with the Congress movement. It may be presumed that even now nearly 6,000 persons are in jail. Government may at least tell the public how many of these are detained without any trial and how many were convicted for purely technical offences involving no violence of any kind. If the Viceroy were serious about his appeal to the people to forget and forgive, he would have released at once all such, even if he desired to make a general amnesty a condition for a settlement. The war being over, there is no justification whatsoever for keeping anybody in prison without a trial. To persist in detaining hundreds of men week after week, month after month, in peace times is an outrage on justice, a stinking scandal. To deprive Congress of their services for election work is anything but playing the game.

"Artha"

Among the Marathi reading public the "Artha" edited by Prof. V. G. Kale enjoys a deservedly high repute tation, because of the interesting and informative material it contains on matters, financial and economic. The special issue of the journal published during the last Diwali is replete with articles dealing with questions which agitate people's minds at present. Of special significance is the editorial on the unequal distribution of natural resources and population. With a population which is 52 per cent of the total world population the area covered by Asia is 20 per cent and the food resources 34 per cent. North America, on the other hand with an area nearly as large, namely, 17 per cent has a population that is only 9 per cent of the world population. Its food resources are equal to those of Europe (exclusive of Russia) but Europe has to support a population twice as large, namely, 19 per cent. How these and other glaring inequalities are to be redressed, in case the Four Freedoms are to be guaranteed to all the peoples of the world is the question that faces its statesmen and economists.

Cotton Trade In India

In an article on the present position of the cotton trade in India Mr. R. G. Saraiya refers to the great changes that have taken place in the outlook because of the destruction of a major portion of the cotton textile industry of Japan. The offtake of Indian cotton by foreign countries is bound to be limited and hence the reduction by nearly one million acres in the area under cotton is therefore welcome. But even then, it may not be easy for the cultivator to have a market for his cotton unless Government adopt a positive policy of organizing the export trade by measures such as have been adopted in the United States of America. Various aspects of planning are dealt with in a brief article by Prof. D. G. Karve, who is the president of the Indian Economic Conference for the year. These relate to the immediate programme and Prof. Karve rightly emphasises that expenditure by Governments in India should be devoted to enterprises that go immediately to add to the production of food and other essentials of life. Priority should be given, for instance, to the construction of large irrigation works over railways and to the development of mine irrigation works over roads. There is a danger of dumping of cement and tar and other materials by the trading and the industries concerned if, as the Viceroy urged last year, road construction occupies the front rank in our planning. Government should also adopt a policy, Prof. Karve suggests, of economic development which is based on the fullest employment of the existing resources in raw materials capital and labour instead of turning the nation's energies to schemes dependent on aid from abroad, both technical and financial.

Egyptian Consul-General's Speech

The Consul-General for Egypt writes:—

Dear Sir,

"I am writing the present to express my amazement and displeasure in regard to the misrepresentation in your article under the heading "Jinnah's charge-sheet against Britain" in this morning's "Bombay Chronicle."

"I never said, or thought of, that the British Government wants to establish a Jewish State in Palestine and convert the Second Sacred Kaba of the Muslims into a Jewish Synagogue."—Yours etc

Attitudes And Latitudes

By "BIRBAL"

(The views expressed in this column are not always necessarily those of the Editor.—Editor "B. C.")

For the people of China there is no peace. The Japanese aggrandisement from south and east has been succeeded by Russian encroachments from east and north.

Through a plebiscite, giving a unanimous vote so characteristic of totalitarian regimes, Outer Mongolia has voted for "independence", that is, independence from China and inevitable incorporation in the Soviet Union. On the heels of this "democratic" plebiscite comes the other hot news: "A new independent Government backed by the Outer Mongols and the Russians", reports the "United Press of America", "has been created in the Inner Mongolia, it is reliably learnt. The nearby Chinese Communist 8th Route Army is said to be supporting the new Government". Early in September 'a "Liberation Committee of the Mongol Peoples" was organized by Outer Mongols and Russians; the work of "liberation" is obviously proceeding according to plan!

The Russians are settling down in Manchuria also. The Chinese Government have been refused permission to land forces at Port Arthur or Dairen, and even in the appointment of civilian officers, the A. P. A. reports, "tacit", if not explicit, approval of Soviet authorities is required". With characteristic Kremlin humour Moscow, it is alleged, has asked Chungking to pay the cost of the Soviet invasion and occupation of Manchuria!

From Frying Pan To The Fire

An American observer had remarked, early last month, that "Time and America are improving the bargaining power of the Central Government" The Russians have no desire to see Father Time render this assistance to Chungking; hence catching him by the forelock the covert encroachement is being turned into over aggrandisement. The chosen instrument is the Chinese Communist Party.

A minor war is on in China. In the province of Shansi alone, the Government forces have suffered 15,000 casualties at the hands of the Communists. In 1937 the Reds had three divisions as against 180 to 200 of the Government. Today the Communists insist on maintaining 20 to 34 divisions. Nineteen liberated areas are claimed by them and the Russians are arming them and permitting them to occupy large sections of south-west Manchuria from which the Chungking troops are rigorously excluded.

Russia is on the march in the Far East and the spearhead is the Communist Party.

China's weak and harassed nationalism will inevitably become a prisoner of American influence to escape Russian imperialism. The tragedy of China is that after eight years of rare heroism there is this cruel and mocking dilemma before her.

I. N. A.

On Monday last was duly inaugurated the I.N.A. week. Meanwhile news is coming through from Malaya of Government high-handedness. Every Indian suspected of waging war against the King-Emperor is being arrested and will be tried by special Tribunals. There is no one there to look to the defence of these people and frantic appeals are being sent to Pandit Nehru and Sarat Babu to suggest that the Congress should take up the responsibility. Sarat Babu has already sent telegrams to the Viceroy, Dr. Khare and the Secretary of State and soon we might see something concrete being done. The defence of individual by individual is going to be a stupendous task and even the Congress may not be able to cope with it. The best way out, of course, would be to make a political issue of the whole thing.

Meanwhile there is still no gesture or initiation on the part of the Congress to set up a machinery for the rehabilitation or organization of the I.N.A. released. Everyone is preoccupied with the defence of the accused. In his birthday speech Sardar Vallabhbhai requested General Auchinleck to make the I.N.A. the nucleus of the Indian Armed Forces. As the C-in-C is not likely to oblige, why should the Congress not make these priceless men, whom fate has thrown in its lap, the nucleus of its own army? Or would the reasons which expelled Subhas in 1939 also keep the I.N.A. out of the Congress? In that case the Congress High Command would definitely be behind times for the I.N.A. and all it stood for has captured the hearts and imagination of the masses completely and in the process knocked down all the sacrosanct gods that orthodox Congress has so far worshiped. It will be impossible to reinstate these deities, more so in light of imperial policy now in naked action in the whole of Asia. It is breeding a political cynicism which cannot in any case worship any gods.

Asia Versus The Rest

Quit Asia has become as familiar a slogan today as Quit India and supported as it is with a plan of an Asiatic Federation, it already shows the future alignments—East versus West and coloured versus white. Looking to the behaviour of western imperialism in Asia one cannot help seeing magnificent possibilities of gigantic struggles. For the first time also we cannot help appreciating that our internationalism has come nearer home.

U. Aung San, the leader of the Burmese Nationalists, has made the suggestion that a conference of subject peoples of Asia be called which should draw up a plan "so that we can collaborate to obtain freedom for our respective countries."

Our Indian leaders who first gave currency to the slogan of "Quit Asia" have naturally welcomed this suggestion and Maulana Azad has suggested India as the natural venue of such a Conference. While fully supporting the suggestion specially in view of the role that Indian soldiers are being made to play in the "liberation" of our neighbours and in the restoration of law and order, "Birbal" cannot help feeling that nothing really worthwhile will be achieved by the Conference if it meets in a slave country. Firstly, it may not be allowed to meet and, secondly, even if it is it will be seen to that it does no harm. The only alternative venue one can think of is Siam. Will Siam issue the invitations?

Protest Against Mass Arrests In Malaya

KUNZRU DEMANDS FACILITIES FOR INDIAN LAWYERS TO DEFEND INDIAN ACCUSED

VIZAGAPATAM, Nov. 9 (API):—Pandit Hridayanath Kunzru, President, Servants of India Society, interviewed by the 'Associated Press of India' on the situation in Malaya said according to the latest information, it appeared all prominent Indians in Malaya had been arrested and the Indian community there found itself helpless and was anxiously looking for support from India. He strongly felt that the Government of India should immediately recognise their moral obligation to the people by stating publicly whether they have sent their Agent to Malaya or not.

Pandit Kunzru said that according to the latest information received by him about Malaya, up to 5th October, 89 persons had been arrested. About 36 of these appeared to be Indians, including Mr. N. Raghavan, President of the Central Indian Association of Malaya and Dr. N. K. Menon, President of the Indian Association of Penang.

"It is understood in Malaya", Pandit Kunzru said, "complaints have been made against about 800 persons. All of them may not be taken into custody or prosecuted, but there is a fear that hundreds of people are going to be arrested. We do not know how many of these are Indians. But it is clear from the cable received from Swami Atmaram of Singapore that it appeared that all prominent Indians have been arrested. It is understood that a special court was to be set up early in November to hear complaints and to examine witnesses and decide whether particular individuals could be charged with having collaborated with the Japanese. As the Indians who were in a position to help their countrymen have been rounded up. The Indian community in Malaya finds itself helpless and is anxiously looking for support from India.

"If, as the Deputy Representative of the Ceylon Government in Malaya broadcast from Singapore, it is true that only local lawyers will be allowed to be engaged by the accused, it will be a great injustice to the Indian community. Judging from the information that has reached us, all or nearly all the well-known Indian lawyers in Malaya like Messrs. Raghavan, Benjamin and Goho are under arrest. I think, therefore, that we are entitled to demand that Indian accused should be able to invite lawyers from India to defend them and that we should be free to provide our own countrymen with such legal assistance as we may be able to.

'Our success in this respect will depend in no small extent on the sympathy and firmness of the Government of India, but their attitude so far has been disappointing. Unfortunately, in spite of the anxiety that prevails in the country, particularly in Madras, they have refused even to tell the public whether any officer of theirs has already gone to Malaya or will go there. Their resolute silence on this point is discrediting them in the eyes of those who are deeply interested in the fate of their countrymen in Malaya.

Assaulting Passenger Is Not Execution Of Duty As Servant Of Crown

Federal Court Judgment On Appeal Of Railway Station Master From Bihar

NEW DELHI, Nov. 9 (API): The Federal Court to-day passed an order that Sarjoo Prasad, a station master at a steamer station on the O. T. Railway, who is alleged to have assaulted a passenger, cannot be held to have acted in the execution of his duties as a servant of the Crown.

The order was passed on an appeal filed by Sarjoo Prasad against the Patna High Court's judgment that Sec. 270 (1) of the Government of India Act, giving indemnity for past acts done as a servant of the Crown, did not apply to him.

FEDERAL COURT DECISION

The Federal Court judgment said, it has been contended that a Railway servant is not a person employed about the affairs of a Province but one 'employed about the affairs of the Federation', that according to Clause E (3) of Sec. 270, the relevant date in the applicant's case must be held to be the date of the establishment of the Federation and that therefore, the Act complained of is one done before the 'relevant date'. By way of answer to this contention, it has been suggested that on a proper reading of Clause (1) of Sec. 270, the benefit of that section can be invoked by servants of the Central Government only when proceedings are instituted after the establishment of the Federation, in respect of acts done before the date of the establishment of the Federation. It is unnecessary for the purpose of this case to decide this question, because we are of the opinion that the act complained of in this case cannot be held to be one 'done or purporting to be done' in the execution of the appellant's duty as a servant of the Crown."

The appeal was dismissed.

SURPLUS WAR MATERIAL

Mudaliar Explains Govt.'s Policy At Muslim Chamber Dinner

"The disposal of surplus war material will be so regulated that the supply of consumer goods will balance the demand for them." This assurance was given by Sir A. Ramaswamy Mudaliar, Commerce Member to the Government of India and leader of the Indian delegation to the United Nations Preparatory Conference, at a dinner given in his honour at the Taj by the All-India Muslim Chamber of Commerce and Industry on Friday night. Sir Ramaswamy further declared that it would be the duty of the Government of India to see that the nascent industries developed during the war not guillotined by allowing large quantities of consumer goods to come in.

Sir Ramaswamy came out as a brilliant protagonist of the Government's policy regarding industrialisation of the country. He said that the Government was guided by the motto embodied in the Atlantic Charter, namely that the common man should have his long withheld heritage.

Therefore, the policy was to raise the standards of living, not of one particular area, but of the country as a whole. When the Government spoke of regional development, it meant the development of the backward areas of British India as well as of the Indian States. The Government could not lean one way or the other, if it wanted to be fair and all round.

There had been some misunderstanding about this. But it was due to a lack of grasp of the policy of the Government behind a particular act.

SAME TROUBLE ALL OVER THE WORLD

India consisted of a diverse and not homogeneous population. But having travelled all the world over, and observed things for himself, he could say that such diversities existed everywhere. It was only a question of the magnitude of the problem.

In Canada for instance, he said, French Canadians and the British Canadians found it difficult to move together. There were again conflicts between the maritime and the inland provinces. The conflicts in South Africa were much more deep. And not even in Britain was there a homogeneous population. The Scotsman and the Welshman were different, as much as the Yorkshireman was different from the Devonshire man.

As regards India, Sir Ramaswamy said that nothing would pave the way towards a permanent effort of industrialisation than a more happy combination between the Hindus and the Muslims. It was a fact, he said, that the Muslims had to make much lee-way in commerce and industry.

The next six or eight months, said Sir Ramaswamy, were going to be the most critical period in the history of India, which would make or mar the future of the country for the next 20 years.

Therefore, what was needed was not just slogans, but constructive thought and actions and precise equipment—mental, moral and physical concluded Sir Ramaswamy.

Earlier, Mr. Cassamaly Mumjee, Chairman of the Chamber, welcoming Sir Ramaswamy said that the Chamber would like to know from Sir Ramaswamy the policy of the Government regarding the disposal of surplus war material.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Elections & Servicemen

The general elections in Great Britain resulted in a victory for the Labour Party. The victory was largely due to the comman man in England and the Serviceman abroad being eligible to vote. Every British Serviceman, even in the remotest jungles of Burma and on the high seas, had the facilities to vote and the right to vote If voting by proxy had not been permitted, the result of the election in Britain would probably have been different. We, Indian servicemen in India and abroad are not fortunate enough to enjoy that right to vote nor has anything been said or done to let us know where we stand. By virtue of being in the Armed Forces, we seem to have lost our right to vote. The rules laid down by the Government seem to exclude most of the Servicemen and large numbers of civilians from voting as, during this war, millions of people have been forced by the changing conditions to leave their homes and provinces. The residential qualification seems to be the stumbling block in getting on the rolls, and I dare say that this is not unknown to the Government. Then if the general elections are to be held in th cause of progress, is it too late for the Government to take steps to remove this obstacles? We hope that sincere efforts will be made, immediately, so that millions of potential voters are not deprived of one the rights of citizenship.

I have spent 20 years out of 20 years of my life in Bombay, but just because I was not in Bombay for 180 days during the financial year of 1944-45, when I was actually engaged on Active Service on Burma Front, I have lost my right to vote. There are many others who feel more bitterly about this.

The Cochin State Government permitted all the Cochin State subjects who were in the Armed Forces to vote by proxy. Are we to understand that an Indian State is more democratic than British India which is administered by the representatives of the democratic British Government?

A SERVICEMAN.

Railway Notice Boards

According to the arrangement at present in force, the notice board placed near Assistant Station Master's offices at all big stations on G. I. P. Rly. is for the convenience of the public to know which trains are running late and in time and also to a some extent for the purpose of minimising the interference of the public in A. S. M.'s normal duties.

I have many a time witnessed that the train numbers and timings are written in railway language which becomes a 'cross-figure' puzzle to a traveller. Even educated men on platform are seen approaching A.S.M for the information of arrival of trains which he could not manage to make out from those unusual numbers and timings.

Allow me to draw the attention of railway authorities to the above fact and request them, through your esteemed paper, that they may issue instructions to all Station Masters to write 'Bombay-Calcutta Mail' instead of 1 Dn. and 'Nagpur-Bhusaval Passenger' instead of 352 Dn. and serve the very principle of such notices.

(Mrs.) USHA M. RAJE.

"Press In Goa"

"A British Indian Friend" in his letter regarding "Press in Goa" published in your paper of 13th instant betrays his gross ignorance of some facts inspite of his alleged 20 years' old connection with Goan affairs and having travelled widely over Goa. The newspaper "Bharat" cannot be called a nationalist paper simply because it bears an Indian name. "Bharat" is a good supporter of Salazar as the Catholic Action paper "A Vida." The now defunct "Hindu" was not only a rank communalist paper but it served the interests only of a section of the Goan Hindu community. The "Gomantak" of Bombay is more notorious for its "war" against the Catholic Church than for its nationalism. It has practically no support from the Goan Hindus or Christians both in Goa or Bombay.

It is a travesty of facts to call "O Heraldo" a Catholic and Government paper. I do not know if "A British Indian Friend" is confusing "O Heraldo" with semi-official "Heraldo", which is a good servant of the Government and of the Patriarchate "O Heraldo" has been the only paper that has fought boldly and successfully the attempts of the present Patriarch to segregate the Hindus and Christians in two separate water-tight compartments and to force through Religion many ugly aspects of Fascism on the Goans.

It would be better if "A British Indian Friend" educates himself correctly on the Goan affairs and not rushes to the Press with his second hand knowledge obtained from questionable quarters which is harmful both to Goans and to "A British Indian Friend" himself.

A GOAN.

Doctor Syed Abdul Latif warningly points out that the picture of a sovereign, independent Pakistan raised by Muslim Leaguers in the minds of the masses is not a picture of either an Islamic State enforcing Shariat Law or an independent State or a full Dominion in any accepted sense of the term.

The Doctor, though right, is wrong, too. The picture in fact is all that should be according to time and circumstances of the particular occasion.

Thursday's Palestine meeting at the Sabu Siddic Institute was historic. It was another and upto date the most-er-inspiring landmark in the rapid march of the Muslim nation. For, we learn that "a new slogan rent the air hailing Mr. Jinnah as the "Shah-in-Shah-e Pakistan (the Emperor of Pakistan).

Long live His Imperial Majesty.

But since the march continues we hope soon to see Mr. Jinnah hailed as something even more inspiring than Shah-in-Shah-e Pakistan".

Meanwhile Beverley Nichols must feel very gratified.

We have a humble suggestion to make. Since the materialisation of a Crown, a throne and—yes and the Empire is merely a matter of time and may even be assumed as a virtual fact, poets in the Imperial Muslim League—and Allied— camps should immediately get busy, and produce their tributes of brilliant eloquent Qasaid that will live in the history (to be) of the Imperial Literature of Pakistan.

Mr. Chundrigar presiding over His would-be Imperial Majesty's meeting observed that so far the Musalmans of India had been showing every sympathy towards the cause of the Arabs, but of late signs were looming large on the horizon which meant that something more than mere sympathy was needed now.

Worried, Mr. Chundrigar, Don't. The "time" won't come

Mr. Jinnah in reply to Mr. Sarat Bose says that his claim was never that the Muslim League represented 100 p.c. Musalmans but that it represented an overwhelming majority of the Musalmans.

Fresh interpretation of the "sole, authoritative phrase"—till further notice.

By the way, we don't know why we are forcefully but, of course quite irrelevantly reminded of Mr. Jinnah's Simla reference to an "Indian paper"—he didn't say it was "Dawn" which had declared "one swalow—Mr. Jinnah didn't say the word was "Quisling"—does not make a summer".

FEUDATORY STATE WITHOUT A PRINCE

Abdul Latif X-Rays Jinnah's Pakistan

NEITHER ISLAMIC NOR INDEPENDENT STATE

MADRAS, November 8 (A.P.I.)—Dr. Syed Abdul Latif addressing the Madras Institute of Public Administration was of emphatic opinion that the picture of an independent sovereign Pakistan which the League leaders had raised before the minds of the Muslim masses at this critical hour, was not a picture of either an Islamic State enforcing Shariat Law or an independent State or a full Dominion in any accepted sense of the term.

This picture of a sovereign State of Pakistan, Dr. Latif observed, was not a picture of a Dominion in terms of the Statute of Westminster which he went on to explain in detail was as free as Britain in the conduct of its foreign relations. The picture of Pakistan as described by the League President was that of a Feudatory Indian State without a Prince, observed Dr. Latif.

Continuing, Dr. Latif said the League President can think of no better status of Pakistan as its final goal than the status given to Egypt by her Treaty of Alliance with England in 1936. Explaining the several Articles of that Treaty Dr. Latif pointed out that the alliance between Egypt and England was to be perpetual which was possible only between a weak and strong party and that the Articles Seven and Eight of the Treaty with relevant annexures imposed on Egypt particularly in respect of the Suez Canal zone continued military obligations as might be dictated from time to time by the military strategy of her ally, England.

Concluding, Dr. Latif appealed to the League leaders to pause and reflect. The British trend of mind is distinctly against any absolute partition of the country.

Not merely the present Viceroy and his predecessor Lord Linlithgow but Messrs. Churchill and Attlee and Prof. Laski, Chairman of the Labour Party Ex-ecutive have made this clear to everybody. It is upto the Muslim League therefore to seriously consider whether it is not desirable to give up its intransigence and reconcile itself to the union of sovereign States for India each State enjoying full internal sovereignty or full autonomy and jointly looking after subjects common to the entire country in a manner such as shall not allow any constituent State or group of States to dominate the rest. In Dr. Latif's opinion that was the only agreeable compromise that could be thought of between absolute partitition and a strong majority rule for the whole of India.

Examining the first question, Dr. Latif argued that the character of the State will ultimately depend upon the composition of its population. If Pakistan is to be composed of only those portions of north-west and north-east India, which are predominantly Muslim in population such as the areas west and south of Lahore, or Eastern Bengal, there is nothing to prevent the Muslims of Pakistan from giving an Islamic bias to its constitution with adequate democratic constitutional safeguards for non-Muslim minorities. But if on the other hand, the Pakistan State is to include, as recently suggested in the Gandhi-Jinnah correspondence, the whole of the present Punjab, Bengal and Assam bringing the Muslim majority to just a little over the legal majority, it follows clearly that you cannot have an Islamic State in any intelligible sense of the term, and you will have to set up a composite Government with non-Muslims represented in the ratio of 4 to 6 unless accepting the logical implications of Mr. Jinnah's proposal of parity between Muslims and Non-Muslims for an interim centre of India, a similar parity arrangement is decided for Pakistan also.

EUROPEANS WANT NO DIVISION OF INDIA

But Sir William Roberts Favours Pakistan Of Unionists

LAHORE, Nov. 9 (A.P.I.): "Europeans in general are not in favour of dividing India", said Sir William Roberts, Chairman of the European Association (Punjab branch), in an interview to the Associated Press of India to-day.

Sir William Roberts, who has been a member of the Punjab Legislature for 11 years said: "Pakistan as envisaged by the Unionist Party would be acceptable to the other communities for it would imply agreement on an agreed Centre. Europeans in general are not in favour of dividing India. It would weaken the country in its relations with other Eastern Powers."

5,000 PEOPLE MARCH IN TATTERED GARMENTS

CALCUTTA Nov. 9 (API.)

Nearly 5,000 village and town folk in tattered garments paraded the main thoroughfares of Mymensingh on the anniversary day of the Russian Revolution on Wednesday, states the Secretary of the Mymensingh District Committee of the communist party of India.

The processionists approached the District Magistrate at his bungalow and asked for immediate supply of cloth, yarn and blankets.

At a meeting held before the procession started speakers urged the need for a Congress-League-Communist unity for the purpose of achievement of India's independence.

Violence Used By Congressmen?

Mahatma Entrusts Inquiry To Jairamdas

KARACHI, Nov. 9 (A.P.I.): Mahatma Gandhi is understood to have addressed a communication to Mr. Jairamdas Doulatram, prominent Sind Congress leader, asking him to enquire into the allegation of Sind Hindu Mahasabha leaders that Congress workers were using force and had broken up some meetings organised in support of the Sabha's candidates for the coming elections.

Mahatma Gandhi adds that Congressmen should in no case use any violent methods or force during the election campaign.

A free India was in itself a guarantee of the freedom of all the Asiatic peoples. It was the paramount duty of the Congress to work with a united purpose for the realisation of India's destiny which would ensure the destiny of free Indonesia and Indo-China and other sister lands.

He also condemned the use of Indian troops against the freedom movements of Far Eastern nations.

Continuing, Mr. Deo said that until Congress achieved its goal there will be many repetition of what happened in 1942.

He explained how Pakistan was unworkable.

Mr. Deo also appealed for the wholehearted support to fight for the release of the prisoners of the Indian National Army.

Bon-fire Of Black Caps In Poona

POONA, Nov. 9 (A.P.I.): Late last night, a big bon-fire of black caps was held at Fuley Market in Poona, following an election campaign speech by Mr. P. K. Atre, noted Marathi writer. Mr. Atre explained the Congress point of view and exhorted the large audience to vote for the Congress.

A crowd later marched through the streets shouting Congress slogans. Some of the marchers pulled down a large hoarding in front of the market, which was put up by the recruiting office. The Board pictured the Maharashtra Emperor, Shivaji, and exhorted prospective recruits to follow his example. Another similar board near the city post office was also pulled down and damaged. The crowd dispersed on the arrival of the police.

No Contest Between Sarat Bose And Dr. Shama Prasad

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9 (A.P.I.): The possibility of a contest between Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and Dr. Shyama Prasad Mookherjee in the election to the Central Legislative Assembly has been eliminated.

Dr. Mookherjee has to-day withdrawn his nomination for the Calcutta non-Mahomedan Urban Constituency. With his withdrawal from the Calcutta Urban Constituency Dr Mookherjee is now seeking election only for the Calcutta Suburban seat in the Assembly.

Two sitting members of the Central Assembly, Mr. Akhil Chandra Dutta and Mr. N. C. Chunder also withdrew their nominations for the Calcutta Urban seat to-day.

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose has now two rivals from this constituency, namely, Mr. Sanat Kumar Roy Chowdhury, ex-Mayor of Calcutta, who is a nominee of the Hindu Mahasabha and Mr. Rash Behari Sarkar, an Independent candidate.

Dr. Mookherjee will have to fight the Congress nominee Mr. Nagendranath Mookherjee and also Mr. Satish Chandra Bose, elder brother of Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, from the Calcutta suburbs constituency.

For the Calcutta and Suburbs Mahomedan seat two candidates have been left over, Mr. A. R. Jinnah Defining Pakistan Says

RIGHTS OF MINORITIES WILL BE DULY PROTECTED

Full Autonomy To Be Given To Federated Units

MR. M. A. JINNAH, PRESIDENT OF THE ALL-INDIA MUSLIM LEAGUE GAVE AN INTERVIEW ON THURSDAY TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS OF AMERICA IN WHICH HE DEFINED PAKISTAN, AND GAVE IN DETAILS DESCRIPTION OF THE POLITICALLY INDEPENDENT SOVEREIGN MUSLIM STATE, PAKISTAN.

ASSURANCE TO HINDU MINORITIES

THE QAID-E-AZAM EMPHATICALLY DECLARED THAT THE HINDU MINORITIES IN PAKISTAN COULD REST ASSURED THAT THEIR RIGHTS WOULD BE PROTECTED, ADDING THAT THE FEDERATED UNITS OF PAKISTAN WOULD HAVE ALL THE AUTONOMY THAT EXISTED IN THE U.S., CANADIAN AND AUSTRALIAN CONSTITUTIONS, BUT CERTAIN VITAL POWERS WOULD REMAIN VESTED IN THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN.

Mr. Jinnah said:—

"Geographically, Pakistan would embrace all of the North-Western Frontier, Baluchistan, Sind and the Punjab provinces in North-Western India.

On the eastern side of India would be the other portion of Pakistan composed of Bengal (including the rich industrial and port city of Calcutta) and Assam provinces.

Politically, Pakistan would be a democracy. Mr. Jinnah said he personally hopes its major industries and public utility services would be socialised. The component states or provinces of Pakistan would have autonomy.

Economically, Mr. Jinnah contended Pakistan, divided into two separated zones, is just as sound an undertaking as though it would be a country with all of its states in one bloc; that its natural resources and population would be sufficient to make it a great world power:

Declaring that Pakistan would embrace a population of some 100,000,000 persons, Mr. Jinnah added: "England became a power with only a population of 35,000, 000. Pakistan could become one of the most powerful states economically."

PAKISTAN

He said that "even now a Muslim League committee is studying the field for developing the Pakistan states as a nation. There is a great future for it, with its still untouched iron, petroleum, sulphur, coal and other mineral deposits, many of which already have been mapped. The Punjab is putting up one of the greatest hydro-electric stations in the world and this will mean a rural electrification and industrial development programme.

Mr. Jinnah asserted there is no merit to contentions that to draw masses of persons into industry would rob farms of needed labour and invite food shortages or famine. He said there would be ample revenues from "equitable taxation, levied in a manner consistent with social justice to finance good Government and 'allow us to have a state as good as any in the world and better than many sovereign countries on the map of the world today.

"This would be a Muslim State" Mr. Jinnah said. "As far as the Mussalman is concerned, there would be no social barriers of any kind against Hindus or anyone else. The Mussalmans are a people who believe and act on the basic principle of equality of manhood and fraternity."

On the subject of socialisation of utilities and industries, he said: "You are asking me to interpret what the Government will do." But, personally, he said, "I believe that in these modern days, essential key industries ought to be controlled and managed by the State. That applies also to certain public utilities. But what is a key industry and what is a utility service are matters for the lawmakers to say not for me to say it."

Mr. Jinnah said he did not expect Pakistan would have one party Government and that he would oppose one party rule. "An opposition party or parties are good correctives for any party which is in power", he said.

MINORITIES INTERESTS

The Muslim League chief said Hindu minorities in Pakistan "can rest assured that their rights will be protected. No civilised Government can be run successfully without giving minorities complete sense of security and confidence. They must be made to feel that they have a hand in Government and to do this, they must have adequate representation in it. Pakistan will give this."

Pakistan's theory guarantees, he said, that federated units of the National Government would "have all the autonomy that you will find in the constitutions of the United States of America, Canada and Australia. But certain vital powers will remain vested in the Central Government, such as the monetary system, national defence and other federal responsibilities."

He said each federated State or province would have its own legislative, executive and judicial system, each of the three branches of Government constitutionally separate.

NATIONAL DEFENCE

On the subject of national defence, he said: "Britain has been strong with an Empire scattered over the globe. We can be strong with a Pakistan which has one of its zones on the west and one on the east of India. We would be more closely knit than the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"And do not forget that more than 55 per cent of the Indian Army comes from the Punjab and are mostly Muslims."

Supposing that the Muslim League proves in the election that it speaks for a majority of Muslims in India, he was asked, when would first moves be made to set up a constitution-drafting body and start the task of founding a country?

"That" he replied, "depends on the attitude of the British Government and of the Congress Party. The British Government has said it would grant independence to two or more Dominions in India. We would have to wait and see."

General Mansergh's ultimatum was accompanied by a proclamation issued by Lieut.-General Sir Philip Christison, Allied Commander-in-Chief, Netherlands East Indies, declaring that strong British forces had arrived from overseas and that those responsible for crimes would be sought out and punished.

Urging lawabiding citizens to co-operate with the Allies in tracing down extremists who were responsible for the disorders in the city "and thus show their good faith to the world", the proclamation declared "this is not an attack on the liberties of the Indonesian people, it is not an attempt to settle their political future by force and it does not concern the rest of Indonesians.

"It is the Extremists in Sourabaya who are guilty and it is the guilty who must suffer.

"Have nothing to do with the Extremists and do nothing to bring trouble or disaster to your towns or settlements."

PEACE TALKS HELD UP

There were reports in Batavia today that a strong force of Dutch troops were off the city ready to land and assist the British in the event of a general Indonesian Extremist uprising.

Chundrigar Inaugurates League Election Campaign

BOMBAY, Friday.

Mr. T. T. Chundrigar, President, Bombay Provincial Muslim League, inaugurated the election campaign for the Centre and Bombay Legislative Assemblies at a public meeting tonight at Chota Kaoristan. Mr. Moosa Patel presided.

Making the opening speech Mr. Mirza Akhtar Hussain, Advocate, said that the coming elections would be fought on the issue if the Mussalmans of India wanted a separate Muslim State. The result of the elections, he observed would decide the issue. With the creation of a separate State they would be in a better position to help their afflicted brethren in various Muslim countries.

Appealing to the audience to vote for the Muslim League candidates, Mr. T. T. Chundrigar said that the elections would show invariably which party in India was authorised by the popular will to speak for the Mussalmans of India. He further said that the Muslim voters in voting for the Provincial Legislature would be exercising a wider influence, because one-third of the elected Muslim members would be sent to the Central Constitution-making Body.

PAKISTAN INITIATED BY BRITISHERS, SAYS MADNI

MURADABAD, Nov. 9. (A.P.I.): Pakistan is an invention primarily initiated by Britishers because on it rests the edifice of their imperialism", said Maulana Husain Ahmad Madni, President Jamiat-ul-Ulema-I-Hind addressing a large gathering here.

The Maulana considered the Muslim League and its leadership as helpers of Britishers in India and an obstacle in the way of India's freedom.

He stressed the need for achieving freedom in the interests of India's Muslim masses.

The Maulana strong.y criticised the policy of the Muslim League and appealed for support for the Nationalist Muslim candidates in the forthcoming elections.

LABOUR TOES TORY LINE ON INDIA

its political as well as its economic dest. "

TO FIGHT JAPAN

He thought it would be right that this country and the world should know the extent of the effort the British were preparing against Japan in the Far East. Mr. Attlee said: "Our forces, after destroying about 130,000 Japanese out of the ten divisions which operated against us in Burma, were preparing to advance into Siam.

Further forces comprising 250,000 men from all parts of the British Commonwealth and the Empire were preparing to liberate Malaya and Singapore and thus open a short searoute to the Pacific which would have brought inestimable advantage to all the Allied forces operating there.

In the South-West Pacific there were six Australian, Canadian, Newzeland and British, to take part in the actual invasion of Japan.

In total we were planning to deploy in India and to the east thereof two and a half million troops, of whom half a million would have had to come from this country.

"DOING OUR BIT"

"Then the R.A.F. together with the Canadian, the Australian, the Indian, the South African and the New Zealand Air Forces when their full effort had been reached, would have put into air 177 combatant squadrons of which 20 would have been heavy bombing squadrons particularly detailed for strategic night-bombing of Japan. For those special airfields were to be built. In the Pacific the fleet was to be built up to some 540 ships of all kinds including four battleships, 14 large and 18 small aircraft carriers and four flotillas of destroyers and three-hundred other types of craft.

This would have included Canadian, New Zealand and Australian ships. The aircraft strength of this fleet alone would have been 620 firstline aircraft.

In addition, there was the British East Indies Fleet which included Indian, French and Dutch ships and made a total of 435 ships and 740 coastal and landing craft.

In all this area the total number of fighting men and women from the Empire and the Commonwealth would have numbered approximately three and a half million, of which approximately one and three-quarter million would have come from this country alone.

I make these figures available not in order to boast, but in order to show that we were doing out bit and to play our full share in the same way as we have in every other theatre of war.

COMMONWEALTH AND EMPIRE

Turning to the British Commonwealth and Empire, Mr. Attlee said: "We can surely never forget that twice at the crisis of our fate there stood together with us the great array of nations that owe allegiance to His Majesty the King. We all know the splendid services that were given to the common cause by the peoples of the Dominions, of India and of the Colonies, not only by the fighting forces but also in the field of supply and finance. It is, I think, in these days when we were considering how nations can live together and progress harmoniously worthwhile to look at the example which the British Commonwealth and the Empire can afford.

During the first world war there was a great advance made in the relations between Great Britain and the Dominions which found ultimate expression in the Statute of Westminster which gave jurisdical form to the fact that this country and the Dominions were equal partners.

CASE OF INDIA

The process of evolution in the British Commonwealth and the Empire has been continuous ever since. In India, in Burma and in the Colonies at varying speeds and in different forms democratic Government has been ever extending to degrees not always comprehended by some of our friends.

They are apt to think that the world's Empire and colony have the same significance as they had 50 or 100 years ago. Take India, for instance. Most of our critics appear to be quite unaware that until it was put in abeyance in certain Provinces by the action of Indian politicians there was a system of Provincial Parliaments with Indian Ministers responsible to elected legislatures whereby nine-tenths of all matters on which the Indian citizen is concerned were under Indian control.

Mr. Attlee added: "They do not realise that ever since 1921 the Indian Government has had unfettered responsibility of its tariff policy entirely free from control by the British Parliament. Ever since the Cripps Offer in 1942 India's complete freedom has been there for the taking.

The only obstacle so far, a very grave obstacle, has been the failure of Indian communities to agree among themselves.

Burma too had her own Government with a Burmese Council of Ministers and a Burmese Prime Minister.

Ceylon has experimented in a novel form of constitution and has now before it a constitution on the British model based on a proposal by Ceylonese Ministers."

COLONIAL EMPIRE

Mr. Attlee said: "Still less is the scope of constitutional advance in the rest of the Colonial Empire during and since the war generally realised. There a variety of new constitutional arrangements have come into force or will shortly do so. An important constitutional change giving a very wide measure of self-government in internal affairs was made to Jamaica nearly twelve months ago: and since prospects for similar progress in other colonies might in part be judged by practical experience in Jamaica, it is very satisfactory to be able to say that so far the change has worked well.

Malta has been promised restoration of self-government and it is hoped that necessary arrangement for giving effect to this policy will be completed before long. Constitutional amendments of varying character have also been decided upon for Nigeria, Gold Coast, Trinidad, British Guiana and a number of other colonies."

ATTLEE'S NEW TUNE

The pace of advance towards self-government is decided not so much by the degree of culture that has been achieved, but by the extent to which people is either homogeneous when it comprises more than one community or has realised that tolerance is the essence of democracy. You will find that constitutional advance is restricted not by the desire of Great Britain to dominate but by the failure of communities to trust each other. Toleration is of slow growth, but until it exists freedom and democracy cannot flourish. Confidence lies at the root of the problem of peace.

We seek a world in which small as well as large nations will be able to live in security.

We seek a world in which the Rule of Law will prevail in security.

We seek a world of social justice.

How to secure this is the major task that faces us to-day. Twice in our lifetime we have been faced with a world cataclysm. On each occasion before that war there has been a long period in which mutual fears built up great armaments.

FOUNDATION OF PEACE

Mr. Attlee continued: "We must look to the United Nations and their close unity of purpose, especially that between Great Britain, the United States and Russia, as the foundation of peace."

Regarding his visit to the United States, he said: "I am sure I shall carry with me your wishes that our talks may be favourable and increase the friendship and co-operation between our two countries and may help in bringing all the nations together.

"I think that you will wish me to express to President Truman our high approval of his recent speech and our cordial acceptance of the 12 points which he laid down as the guiding principles of American policy.

"In particular, we welcome the assurance of continued active participation of the United States in world affairs.

VISIT TO TRUMAN

My principal purpose in visiting President Truman is to discuss with him and with Mr. MacKenzie King world affairs in the light,—the terrible light,—of the discovery of atomic energy. I do not think that the majority of our people yet realise what this means to the world.

"We have to get together with all nations to consider how we can live together in peace.

I hope that the day will come when devastating wars will be as much a thing of the past as outbreaks of plague are now in the city of London. I hope that in future nations will have learned to live in conditions without periodical wars, each more devastating than the last.

The foundation of world order must be laid in the hearts of men.

"I go to America, accompanied by Sir John Anderson, with just this in view. I want to exchange ideas with the President and the Prime Minister of Canada to see how best we can lift from the ordinary man and woman this spectre of fear that haunts him today.

ETERNAL TRUTHS

"I want to consider with them how best our common ideals of peace, freedom, tolerance and economic prosperity for all people can be realised.

"I want a world which will be safe for the common man.

In these times when science has placed so much at our disposal; continuance of war and want is due to moral failure of human beings.

There was a night we all remember when this great city was blasted with fire when home and shop and office and factory were destroyed.

That seems to me symbolic.

In the midst of all the death and destruction of these years of war, there remains still those eternal truths on acceptance of which our life depends.

"I go to the consideration of these high matters, not downcast or depressed, but in a spirit of high endeavour to try to serve my fellowmen, taking with me these three things, faith, hope and charity—and the greatest of this is charity."

INFORMATION FILMS OF INDIA

The success of any great organisation, depends, to a great extent, on the heads, both major and minor, of the various departments. The production chief of I.F.I., is Mr. Ezra Mir, a man of some charm but lacking proper business etiquette as the following two anecdotes, for whose correctness I can vouch, will prove:

(1) At the time the "Our Heritage" series were being made, Mr. Mir came across a young man to whose voice and elocution he took a fancy. Mr. Mir himself requested this young man to make a voice test. This was done in a barn-like studio where the "mike" broke down umpteen times. Though this was a voice and not an elocution test, Mr. Mir insisted on making the somewhat mike-nervous youth read a commentary in a manner to which he was unaccustomed. This young man is prepared to believe that his first test before a microphone, under uncomfortable conditions, was probably a dreadful flop. But he never heard anything more about it from Mr. Mir who had put him to the trouble of making the test. Surely one has a right to expect better business methods from a production chief! It would have been the proper thing to let the young man know whether the test was good, bad or indifferent, after having troubled him, instead of keeping mum.

(2) When the "Dances of India" films were being made, a mutual acquaintance informed Ram Gopal, the Bharat Natya dancer, that Mr. Mir wished to have him for a short on Bharat Natya. Accordingly Ram Gopal's business-manager rang up Mr. Mir and informed him that Ram Gopal was available if he wished to have him for his film. Mr. Mir replied that he would let the business-manager know the answer later. But the answer NEVER came. Whatever the reason for turning down Ram Gopal, Mr. Mir might have had the politeness to inform the dancer that he could not have him. It was bad policy turning down this great dancer. There had been no discussions about payment, so the excuse that Gopal was too expensive for I.F.I., would not work. Anyway, it is from the tax-payers money that I.F.I. are made and we have the right to be shown the best artistes if they deign to appear in I.F.I. shorts.

SHOW INDIA TO THE WORLD

To do I.F.I. justice, they have made a few decent pictures such as the "Our Heritage" series, "The Dances of India", "Handicrafts of India." These films have been exhibited abroad in NON-COMMERCIAL circles. As they depict different aspects of Indian life, they should enter foreign commercial markets in order to disperse the cloudy view prevailing in foreign countries regarding us and our way of life. It is only by entering the commercial market that films can reach the masses most of whom do not belong to film clubs and other such institutions. Some time ago, I.F.I. released on its India circuit a U.S.O. W.I. three-reel documentary. "The Valley of Tennessee." Why was not a similar arrangement made by the Department of Information for the exhibition, in America, through U.S.O. W.I., of one of the few good I.F.I. shorts? Is it because the makers believe that even the best of their films are technically lagging behind foreign products?

COMMENTARIES

For English I.F.I. shorts, the commentaries for the duration of the war, were written by an Anglo-Indian, and spoken by an Englishman notable for murdering Indian names, both of whom have, since, received 'promotion'. These two are cronies of Beverley Nichols. If they share his views, it would be right and proper that they should not, in anyway, be connected with an institution which, we are told, is meant for our welfare. But perhaps they hold different views to those of their comrade. Why is it then that while they were doing commentaries their names were omitted while those of all other important personnel connected with the making of an I.F.I. documentary, were flashed on the screen? Was it because these two were ashamed to be associated with I.F.I. Or was it that the makers really believed that Indians (or Anglo-Indians not shy of the 'coloured' element in their make-up) should alone write and speak these commentaries? If in what were typically British documentaries, the commentaries were from the pen of a man unsympathetic to British traditions and way of life, and were spoken by a foreigner, let us say an Indian, who mispronounced English names, would the British public tolerate it?

Many an Indian could be discovered who could speak as well as, and perhaps better than the dull-voiced though clarid English commentator.

But even if no such Indian were available, and I.F.I. could only procure the services of an Indian who spoke with an Indian accent, so long as his delivery and elocution were clear, it would be preferable having him rather than a foreigner. Do American commentators adopt an English accent? No. Why then should not Indians be permitted their own brand of accent? As to writers, the excellent commentaries of Karl Khandalavala in the "Our Heritage" series—commentaries that breathed love of India—proved that only an Indian with a sincere love of his Motherland can infuse warmth and reality into a commentary about things Indian.

WHAT WE NEED

In order to progress satisfactorily, our film industry needs, as in other countries, the support of Government. The latter could pass a Cinematograph Act in India as was done in England in the twenties. There should also be a Central Board composed of the representatives of various trades which help the production side of plans, of technicians and artistes, and of M.L.A.'s, which could tend wisely to the future growth of the industry. This board could supervise the activities of I.F.I. and see to it that the tax-payer's money is spent on better documentaries than are made at present.

Just as Government has various schemes for sending students abroad for their studies, it could do the same in the case of film technicians and others who could learn to specialize further in their craft.

It seems almost a Utopian scheme to suggest the formation of a Film University. Yet it has been done in Soviet Russia for the purpose of training technical personnel and this example could well be followed in India.

GLORIFYING HOME LIFE

Home life with all its joys and sorrows, smiles and frowns, sunshine and storm is depicted in Sunrise Pictures' "Ghar".

The cast consists of wooden-faced Jamuna and old favourites like Yakub, Nawab and Molina. This picture marks Jamuna's temporary screen separation from her erstwhile Svengali—Barua, under whose hypnotic spell she has moved through picture after picture with the same expressionless countenance. You will have to see "Ghar" and decide for yourself whether the separation has rendered her capable of expressing a few motions on her Buster Keaton visage.

KING FOR A DAY!

"Ek-Din-Ka-Sultan" has received the same lavish treatment as other costume pictures from the Minerva Studio.

The picture unfolds the story of a water-carrier who saved the life of Babar the Moghul conqueror while crossing a ford. As a reward the 'bhisti' was granted his wish to be sultan for a day. What this commoner-turned-king did during his short regime, you will learn from the film.

Sorab Modi's favourite star Mehtab plays the princess heroine who loses her heart to the water-carrier, a role enacted by Wasti.

"HAMRAHI" TRIUMPHS

New Theatres' screen experiment in sociological reform took courage and initiative to make, both of which have been amply rewarded by the picture's immense popularity.

Director Bimol Roy presents us with an author hero who is poor, but too proud to permit his great art to be exploited by the idle rich. Seeing nothing but dignity in labour, he spurs on mill-workers to join a Mill-Workers' Union to fight for their rights against the monster of capitalism which seeks to crush them. An interesting twist is imparted the tale by the hero falling in love with the daughter of an opulent millowner.

Binata Bose, Bhattacharya and a cast of absolute unknowns prove, in this film, that even nonentities, if given the right chance, may sparkle as much as or more than old faces and names.

Tara" turns out to be a rollicking skit.

The songs in the film were composed by Ram Murti and the music by Gyan Dutt.

"Chand Tara", was directed by Manibhai Vyas who displays understanding of Charlie's particular brand of comedy and presents it in just the right manner.

If you like a film frolic, here is a picture after your own heart.

U. P. Elections

Nationalist Muslims Confident Of Success

(From Our Special Correspondent)

LUCKNOW, Nov. 7: "I do not think it can possibly be denied that 99 per cent of the Mussalmans of India are with the Muslim League", was the claim put forward by the Qaid-e-Azam Mr. Mohammad Ali Jinnah, President of the All-India Muslim League, as late as June 29, 1945, at Simla, in the course of the statement he made to about 40 press correspondents in relation to the Wavell Proposals, and hardly four months have elapsed when on November 1, Mr. Jinnah pleaded in the course of an interview to the Associated Press of America at Bombay that 'if as he predicts the election demonstrates that the Muslim League speaks for the majority of Muslim India, our next step will be a demand upon Britain for recognition.' This climb-down shows the way the wind is blowing.

As I stated in one of my previous despatches, as early as August 22, the announcement of the holding of fresh elections 'came as a bolt from the blue for the Muslim League' as it is exposing of the hollowness of the League claim to be the 'sole representative of the Mussalmans of India.' The last Simla Conference broke up because Mr. Jinnah had claimed that the non-League Muslims did not exist, so to say. Now, Mr. Jinnah concedes that non-League Muslims do exist in the country though they may not be in a majority. It is just possible that the forthcoming Provincial Elections might dispel even this obsession of his that the League represents a majority of Indian Mussalmans. Thousands of Muslims today gather in meetings organised by the Nationalist Muslims in places like Lucknow, and hardly a few hundreds are available to hear the Muslim League leaders shouting hoarse for Pakistan. The Nationalist Muslims have stated categorically that they stand for a United India.

The Muslim League in U. P. had built high hopes that the League would secure all the six Muslim seats for the Central Legislative Assembly from this province, but they have been sadly disillusioned. Not only are all the six seats being contested by Nationalist Muslims but the latter hope to secure at least half of them. Fears are entertained that the General Secretary of the All-India Muslim League, the Nawabzada Sahe might lose against his adversary, the sitting member for the Meerut Division, Mr. Mohammad Ahmad Kazmi, the man of the masses. If this happens, God help the League in the forthcoming Provincial Elections.

So far as the other seats in U. P. are concerned, there is hardly any doubt that the Lucknow-Fyzabad Division seat will go to the Nationalist Muslim candidate, Munshi Ehtiram Ali.

The League leaders in U. P. are feeling rather nervous about the other seats as well. The selection of Khan Bahadur Ghazanfarullah as against Sir Shafaat Ahmad Khan has already created enough of heart-burning in the League ranks and the contest of the Khan Bahadur against the Nationalist Muslim nominee Haji Mohammad for the Rohilkhand Division is not taken very lightly. Similarly, Mr. Shakir Ali, the 70-year old nationalist veteran of Gorakhpur, set up by the Nationalist Muslim Parliamentary Board is almost certain to secure an easy victory over Sir Ziauddin Ahmad. Sir Mohammad Yamin Khan and Nawab Mohammad Ismail Khan are also reported to be having no easy sail against their nationalist opponent, Chaudhry Faqiruddin and Dr. M. H. Faruqi respectively.

A meeting of some of the prominent members of the Provincial League Parliamentary Board was held here on Sunday last when the conditions prevalent in the province were reviewed. I am reliably informed that the deplorable position of the League in the eastern districts of the province like Basti, Gorakhpur and Azamgarh was particularly considered. It transpires that the League is sure to lose almost all seats in this area.

There are eight rural seats in the Ghazipur, Ballia, Gorakhpur, Basti and Azamgarh districts. Of these, three were held by Congressmen, in the last Provincial Assembly, namely, Messrs. Mohd. Sulaiman Ansari, Abdul Hakim and Iqbal Ahmad Khan Sohail, and one at least by an Independent, namely Wazi Adil Abbassi. The Congress is sure to secure all these four seats in the forthcoming elections, Qazi Saheb also is expected to contest on Congress ticket this time, and remaining four held by the Muslim League so far, as also expected to be won over by the Congress or Nationalist Muslims.

Increase In General Tax

Municipal Corporation Budget

A proposal to increase the General Tax in the city of Bombay from 12 to 14 per cent., yielding annually about Rs. 30·07 lakhs, was made by Mr. U. M. Mirchandani, Municipal Commissioner, presenting the budget estimates for 1946-1947 to the Standing Committee of the Bombay Municipal Corporation on Friday.

He also suggested an investigation into the possibility of augmenting the municipal revenues by the expansion of the Town Duty, levy of a profession tax, as in Madras and Calcutta, and a theatre tax of a rupee or two per cinema, as in Poona, Surat and some other places.

The income for the year, 1946-1947, is estimated at Rs. 523.23 lakhs, inclusive of the opening balance of Rs. 18.15 lakhs. The year is expected to close with a balance of Rs. 9·51 lakhs after providing for an expenditure of Rs. 511.97, a sum of Rs. 32 lakhs of which would be credited to the Post-War Reconstruction Fund.

A provision of Rs. 63·76 lakhs has been made in the budget estimates as the Corporation's contribution to the Municipal Schools Committee, against the amount of Rs. 70.28 lakhs asked as grant by the Committee itself. In this connection, it is pointed out, it was hardly necessary to provide for 145,000 pupils when the actual number of pupils was 125,000. Considering the pace at which the Committee's expenditure on primary education increased, the Commissioner thought that the Corporation might soon find itself embarrassed unless suitable ways and means were devised to meet the burden of new educational schemes.

"So far as the minimum basic needs of city life are concerned", said Mr. Mirchandani, "such as providing water supply, sanitation and roads, we have not done at all badly and have little reason to fear comparison with any other town in India."

It is expected that the sale of poppies this year will realise about Rs. 20,000 which will be divided equally between India and British ex-soldiers.

The plane, which has a wing span of 20 feet, holds enough fuel to cruise for three hours. Its 55 horse-power engine uses three gallons of gasoline per hour. The Skycycle's cruising speed is 100-105 miles per hour; its top speed is 115-120 miles per hour. The tiny-plane is made entirely of metal.

KUOMINTANG MEETS TO CONSIDER YENAN REPLY

Wedemeyer Confirms Clash Between Yankee Marines And Chinese

CHUNGKING, Nov. 8 (Reuter): The Chinese Government was meeting tonight to consider the Communists' reply to its proposal to cease hostilities.

Dr. K. C. Wu, Minister of Information, this afternoon confirmed earlier press reports that such reply from Yenan authorities had been received, but did not disclose its contents.

WEDEMEYER CONFIRMS

SHANGHAI, Nov. 8 (Reuter): Confirmation that there have been clashes between United States Marines and Chinese forces in North China was given here today by Lieutenant General Albert Wedemeyer during a Press Conference held on his return from the United States. The General admitted one case in which marines returned rifle-fire, but he had no confirmation of a Communist report alleging that United States Marines raided their Tientsin office.

Lieutenant General Wedemeyer admitted that to be realistic American assistance in the deployment of the Chinese against the Japanese did help the Central Government against Communist forces because the Japanese had occupied vital areas, but this help would not have been given except to facilitate Japanese repatriation.

The General, who conferred with Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur on the return journey to China and will fly to Chungking tomorrow to confer with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, stressed that the United States policy was only to help the Chinese Government to repatriate the Japanese and not get involved in fratricidal warfare.

Referring to keeping railways open for the transport of coal he declared that he would brook no interference in taking care of his men. Will use any measures in my power to provide for the health of my command", he said.

American forces would not necessarily remain in the China theatre until all Japanese were repatriated, General Wedemeyer declared because this might take months. The theatre was already "deactivitating" very rapidly and would be down to 6.300 men by January 1. This did not include 53 000 marines in North China who might start moving out this month and continue to move out during the next few months if conditions permitted.

Mr. Karmarkar, who hails from the Karnatak, graduated from the Deccan College, Poona, with a First Class in Sanskrit in 1922. He passed the M.A. degree examination with Sanskrit and Pali, and was awarded the Bhagwanlal Indraji Gold Medal by the Bombay University for his thesis on "The History of the Chalukya Empire." He later took his LL.B. degree and settled down at Dharwar for legal practice. He participated in the Congress movements of 1930, 1932, 1941 and 1942 and was thrice proclaimed as an "absconder." He was elected President of the Karnatak Provincial Congress Committee in 1930 and again in 1942. He was sentenced to 21 months' rigorous imprisonment in connection with the Civil Disobedience movement in 1932. A price of Rs. 5.000 was set on his capture in connection with the movement in 1942. He has been taking keen interest in the educational and cultural activities in the Karnatak, and is a member of the Board of Kannada Literature appointed by the Government of Bombay and of the Indian Historical Records Commission appointed by the Government of India.

WHERE HYDERABAD LEADS BRITISH INDIA

Separation Of Judiciary From Executive

(From Our Correspondent.)
HYDERABAD, (By Mail).

There are at least half a dozen definite acts of policy in which Hyderabad State has been in advance of British India.

The Congress has been demanding the separation of the judicial of executive functions of Government for several decades past without much success. In fact even the Congress Ministries in various Provinces failed to introduce the reform, but the Hyderabad Government, which is maligned day in and day out by Hindu communalist press is the one state in India to introduce this reform and carry it out successfully.

The nationalist press in India has been clamouring for the introduction of Vernacular as madium of instruction yet no where in British India has this reform put into effect.

It is only at the Usmania University that this reform has been put into effect and several lakhs of rupees spent to achieve the object.

The Urdu language to-day contains some of the most up-to-date scientific books in the world.

It is an achievement of which any nationalist may well be proud.

STATE HAS CONTROLLING INTEREST IN COAL-MINES

(From Our Correspondent)
HYDERABAD, (By Mail).

It has been calculated that the quantity of coal available from the area leased to the Singareni Collieries is about 1,000 millions.

Of this the quantity of coal raised so far is only about 33 million tons, yielding a royalty of Rs. 53,92,646 to the Government.

The concern has, therefore, the assured prospect of continuing to earn the same dividends as before for about thirty times the number of years it has been working.

Moreover, by acquiring control of the Singareni Collieries, Government have acquired the right further to develop the coal area.

Thus the acquisition by Government of controlling interest in the mining industry of the State carries the assurance that the general mineral wealth of the State will be utilized for fulfilling its growing industrial and other needs.

BRITAIN MUST CEASE TO PERSECUTE INDIANS

If Hindustan Is To Be saved For Cause Of Democratic Socialism, Says Br. Officer

LONDON, Nov. 9 (Reuter).—If a split should take place in the Indian National Congress, the Communist Padrty might become overnight a first rate political power,—this opinion is expressed by David Carpenter a British officer who recently returned from India, in an article in this week's Left-Wing weekly newspaper, the "Tribune."

The writer says: "Future India belongs to the Left. The Congress will probably hold together as long as the struggle for independence lasts. The coalition between the Right and Left in the Congress is so uneasy and there have been so many crises within recent years that it does not take much foresight to predict a split as soon as the common enemy, imperialism, has been vanquished.

NEHRU AND "THE OLD MAN"

"The only criticism one hears of Nehru—and one hears it more and more frequently—is that he subordinates his views to those of 'the Old Man.' 'The Old Man' is still regarded with reverence and affection by all sections of the nationalist movement. But youthful intelligentsia have little patience with his non-violence, his idealisation of the spinning wheel, in his theory of trusteeship, his sometimes absurd attempts to alter the hearts of the rulers by personal appeals.

'But his position in our hearts is secure for all time', they say. 'But he just isn't the man to cope with modern political relations.'

C.S.P. AND REDS

Discussing the relations between the Congress Socialists and the Communist Party, Carpenter says: "Whereas the Communist Party is a sponsor of the Russian philosophy the Congress Socialist Party is a bearer of the philosophy of democratic socialism of Western Europe. It is all the more regrettable, therefore, that four months after the Simla Conference the Congress Socialist Party—the only party that can compete with the Communist party for influence in Trade Unions and in the villages—should still be illegal.

"True, the Congress Socialists were guilty of violence because they are the people who take their demand for independence seriously. But if India is to be saved for the cause of democratic socialism, we must, first of all, cease to persecute Indian representatives of this cause. And over and above everything else, we must implement our promise of self-government within the immediate future. For if we do not, then India may be lost for ever to the democratic sphere of influence."

Property Of Vegetable Ghee

Dr. N. N. Godbole of the Benares Hindu University, writes:—

"Of late, I have been receiving a number of enquiries on the 'digestibility and assimilability of hydrogenated oil (Banaspati ghee),' whose manufacture and sale are very much on the increase in India. It should be noted that this vegetable ghee is unfortunately being sold as a substitute for butter fat or ghee. At present, in India, vegetable ghee is being manufactured to the extent of 1,20,000 (one lakh and twenty thousand) tons annually and the oil used for this purpose is mostly ground nut oil. I have been able to collect a good deal of valuable information on the use of this product as an article of diet and as a substitute for butter fat (pure ghee) which latter is the only source of fat to the staunch vegetarian in India. I have been able to collect a good deal of scientific data both from the biological and chemical points of view I am now anxious to collect data on the assimilability of the vegetable ghee from the medical point of view. The reports, I have received so far, from medical people, tend to show that the use of the vegetable ghee gives rise to constipation and diarrhoea. I wish to appeal through the columns of your paper to all medical practitioners in India to help me with their views and experiences which they have gathered from the patients they have examined. The problem is of national importance because Government has issued new licences and this unfortunate land is going to be flooded with about 2,00,000 (two lakhs) tons more of vegetable ghee within the next 12 months. Little is being done to promote the establishment of dairies to enable the production of genuine ghee. I shall be highly grateful to all medical practitioners if they will be good enough to communicate their experiences to my address.

Enthusiasm Cools On New York Stock Exchange

FURTHER SHARP RISE IN COTTON ON SMALLER CROP ESTIMATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (Reuter).

Wall Street opened irregularly higher. strength persisted, although right selling put many rail and industrial leaders in the losing ranks, the pressure of idle cash continues to be the principal bulwark for trend, but apprehension over possible substantial correction inspired trimming of accounts. The urge to collect profits was also a handicap. Advances of as much as four points dotted the ticker type towards the close, although declines of fractions to more than one point were widespread. Sentiment was buoyed somewhat by a fresh burst of strength of commodities. However the imminence of a wage and price showdown cooled enthusiasm. Cocoanuts were also trimmed on the idea that the long drive to within touching distance of new high levels since 1931 rendered the list vulnerable to a sizeable correction. The session closed irregular. RISE IN COTTON PRICES

New York Cotton Market opened steady, and advanced on overnight trade demand and prebureau covering. Prices sagged slightly owing to realising. The maket reopened with minor gains from the adjourning levels and these gains were eventually extended on the circulation of a lower than expected bureau crop figure. Furthermore, growth of inflation psychology together with continued farm bloc activities for higher farm prices and large foreign requirements stimulated general aggressive buying. The advance found contracts scarce while there was a good demand for spot cotton with a firm basis. Latterly advances of March and May above the twentyfour cent levels on the circulation of bullish bureau crop figures together with emphasis on an array of recent price-lifting factors and firmness of grains ne. somewhat more hedges and realising but the market closed steady.

CHICAGO GRAINS MARKET

Chicago grains were strong under the leadership of rye with December advancing the dve cent limit in sympathy with the strength of Winnipeg and a sharp run up of New York cotton. THEATRE GROUP PRESENTS "OTHELLO"

In Aid Of Theatre Library

Shakespeare's "Othello" will be presented at the St. Xavier's College Hall on the 14th and 15th of November by the Theatre Group. The production is by Sultan Padumsee and Derwick Jeffereis. This is the third Shakespeare play they have put on the stage in the last two years, the first two being "Macbeth" and "Twelfth Night", the designs and interpretations of which created quite a sensation in the theatre world when they appeared.

"Othello" is the first of the Group's items for this session and will embody interesting experiments in coloured decor and with black and white costumes. In the shaping and presentation Padumsee's interpretation will strike a startling modern technique akin to that of the psychological play and the action will seem as though it were taking place in the minds of the characters. Padumsee himself is expected to play a rather striking Othello.

"Othello" is in aid of The Theatre Library which this enthusiastic group are planning to start in Bombay. Tickets priced at Rs. 4, Rs. 2/8 and Rs. 1/4 are already available at Rhythm House.
